

ARREST ZELLA.

Signs at Police Headquarters Point to Such a Move.

Byrnes Talks with Detectives and Lawyer Hummel.

Howard Gould's Name Brought Into Mrs. Nicolaus's Suit.

Rumors were again freely circulated this morning that Mrs. Zella Nicolaus, who is suing George Gould for $40,000 damages for wrongfully retaining a check for that amount which, she says, he had given her, was about to be arrested.

In fact it is pretty certain that her arrest is contemplated but there seems to be trouble on the part of the police to locate her.

Shortly after 5 p.m. Byrnes arrived at headquarters this morning, he sent for Howard Gould, his stenographer, and dictated to him for nearly an hour. Everybody seemed to be granted that he had prepared an affidavit upon which to ask a warrant for the woman's arrest.

Shortly after 11 o'clock Raymond Flood and Detective-Serg. Mangin went away together. They returned about 11:30 and Byrnes seemed to be in a hurry, for he had prepared an affidavit upon which to ask a warrant for the woman's arrest.

The door had scarcely closed behind him when Abe Hummel appears at the front door which he will offer as the evidence came out and aired themselves in the corridor while examining the Superintendent's report.

The conference lasted about thirty minutes and the end of that time Mr. Hummel, looking very much excited, hurried out.

Mr. Nicolaus's name was made in this significant statement:

This was the first time that the name of Mrs. Zella Nicolaus was made a mistake in crime and criminal. When Mr. Byrnes procured an affidavit upon which to ask a warrant for the woman's arrest, he had not mentioned her name.

Mr. Hummel would say no more then. From his language it looked as if the Superintendent had asked him to produce the woman's name in the affidavit upon which to ask a warrant for the woman's arrest.

Mr. Unger, said that no indictment had been returned against the woman, but that the Superintendent could obtain a warrant from any Police Justice on information and belief.

The mystery surrounding the suit of Mrs. Zella Nicolaus seems to be deepening every day.

The latest story in circulation is that the woman's name was made a mistake in crime and criminal. When Mr. Byrnes procured an affidavit upon which to ask a warrant for the woman's arrest, he had not mentioned her name.

COWIE'S MEN WIN A POINT.

Order Granted Allowing Them to Copy District Records.

Prospects of Lively Times Ahead in the Ninth.

The factional fight that has been going on in the Republican ranks for some time in the Ninth Assembly District, culminated to-day in the matter being brought into the Supreme Court before Justice Ingraham.

E. J. Tinsdale, counsel for William Wright, Calvin B. Waterbury, William Strang, James A. Cowie, Walter Logan, Charles A. Vittek, John H. Duh and William Head, Jr., all representative members of the Republican party in the district, and all of whom are opposed to George B. Deane, the present District leader and Republican County Committeeman, applied to the Court for an injunction. They ask that Deane and A. L. Hall, Secretary of the District organization, be restrained from disposing of the records of the organization of the District before the primary next Tuesday, and from interfering with the records so that Cowie and his associates may make a copy before the primary next Tuesday.

Cowie and his associates have made an attempt to get at the records, but have failed.

It is their intention to place a ticket in the field next Tuesday night in opposition to the order of Justice Deane, with the ultimate hope of unseating Deane.

It was argued in opposition to the motion that no effort had been made by Deane and his friends to prevent the opposing members from copying the records, and that they would have no trouble in doing so if they went about it in a proper manner.

Cowie and his followers wanted to get the records "mob fashion."

Justice Ingraham, after they had a right to examine the records, but that they must do so in an orderly and proper way.

He then ordered that Deane and the secretary allow Cowie and his clerks or representatives to examine the records and records any time between 3 o'clock this afternoon and 10 o'clock tonight, and the same hours on Monday.

BEEF SUGAR.

Polish Syndicate to Establish a Refinery in Omaha.

$1,500,000 Will Be Invested and Poles Colonized.

OMAHA, Neb., Dec. 9.—Polish capitalists, headed by Count Lubinski, have decided to establish a beet sugar factory and refinery at Omaha. A conference was held between the Committee of the Commercial Club and the Executive Committee of the State Beet Sugar Association.

The only guarantee asked by the Polish capitalists is that the farmers adjacent to Omaha will put 6,000 acres in sugar beets. A model farm of 600 acres will be given to the farmers who will put in 100 acres.

The investment will amount to $1,500,000. Letters have been sent to all the prominent farmers in the district.

Count Lubinski is vouched for, as he represents a Polish emigrant society of large capital, and will probably operate a beet sugar factory in Maryland. The Poles are well acquainted with the beet industry, and will probably be able to make this a success.

The State will unquestionably place a bounty on the industry, and Congress removes the present bounty.
